- I am sending you more pictures than you can use. But, I figured you can pick and choose.
- Apache 4-H club volunteer every Spring. we take farm animals so patients can pet them. Some patients have never seen a "real farm" animal.
- This all started around four years ago. ~~when~~ Luana Sulas a Apache 4-H member (President of the club) was a patient at Carrie Tingley. Her horse Snowball kicked her and broke her femur bone. She had surgery to put two pins in and was hospitalized at Carrie Tingley for around 6 days. She had physical therapy once a week for 7 months there also. She had her two ~~pins~~ pins removed six months after the accident.

- The personnel at Carrie Tingler treated her so well
- She was very sad. Marcia came to visit her and asked why? ~~She~~ ^{Carrie} said she broke a bone and ~~knaps~~ ^{has} a cast to show for it. Marcia had the cast guy make her a cast. ~~She~~ ^{It} lifted her spirits. Anyone that walked in the room she ~~would~~ would ask them to sign her cast.

- I felt an obligation to try and help in some small way.
- we were (our family) invited to their annual "Spring Thing". At that time a 4-H club from Albuquerque had the petting zoo. They had 2 rabbits. I spoke to Marcia and asked if we ~~++~~ could do the petting zoo the following year. We did... She said our club was hired for life.

- Although it is difficult to get the animals all washed up. Drive one hour to Carme Tinglay. And stay all day. Just seeing one patient's eyes sparkle make it all worth it.

Two teachers have been hired in Belen. One of these teachers goes into saloons and picks the guitar at Mexican fandangos. I certainly hope that you will see to it that a stop is put to this pernicious abuse.

Feb. 2, 1951

Three overnight prisoners in the Belen city jail Wednesday morning "enjoyed" an extended stay behind locked doors. A misplaced key to the jail prolonged their stay until a blow torch could be located and the lock cut so that the door might be opened. Police Chief Fil Sanchez said the key was found later in the contents of one of the prisoners. One of the officers thought the key belonged to one of the men in custody and put it among his belongings held by police.

Thefts during the three-day district basketball tournament in Belen last weekend included gasoline from several cars, a motorcycle, which was later recovered, and about $75 worth of clothing from a visiting coach's unlocked automobile.

For the second week in a row, lawmen closed down a benefit dance at Bosque Farms grade school Saturday night when dancers grew too boisterous and started a gang fight. The dance was staged for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Albuquerque Journal

July 27, 1901

A rollicking band of cowboys owned the town of Socorro Monday. They chased up and down the street, pelting each other and washing each other's faces indiscriminately with chunks of watermelon. When the stock of melons gave out, somebody was discovered to have a box of shoe polish in his possession. It was not 15 minutes until every one of the gang had had his face smeared to the queen's taste. For a hilarious, roaring time no assembly of God's creatures can beat a band of cowboys on a lark. Socorro Chieftain

July 1, 1905

Many eastern cities have taken steps to secure a quiet and rational celebration of the Fourth of July this year. Nothing has been done to that end in Socorro. Here any young American may whoop himself black in the face and blow himself into the kingdom come at his own free will. It can only be hoped that it will be possible to collect enough of the mangled remains for purposes of identification. Socorro Chieftain

Tomé, N.M., was the scene of very elaborate and impressive ceremonies which began last Monday morning and lasted until Tuesday evening ... The celebration was in honor of the 52nd ordination to the priesthood of Rev. John Baptiste Raillere, as well as the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the installation of that reverend gentleman as pastor of the Tomé church, at which place the ceremonies took place. He said to one of his brother priests, in regard to the celebration, "These have been two of the happiest days of my life." Albuquerque Citizen

According to Colonel W.M. Berger, of Belen, there is every likelihood of skyscrapers and flat iron buildings being erected in Belen before not many years have passed. The colonel stated that the new Harvey House would be completed by September 15 and that an electric light plant, a power plant and an ice plant were being contemplated by local capitalists. Albuquerque Journal
